At the Contra Costa County Showmanship Clinic

There were a lot of stations where you could learn about showmanship of specific animals; cows, horses, sheep, swine, rabbits and more. I attended the market goat, cow, horse, and rabbit showmanship clinics. I learned a lot about how to do showmanship well with these animals. My favorite stations were the rabbit and cow stations.

Public Speaking Project

Public Speaking is really fun! It's taught by my mom who helps us learn how to speak in front of an audience of people; whether it's in front of two people, or two-thousand! She taught us how to deal with the nervousness and anxiety that comes with speaking to people, and how to quickly improvise talking about different subjects on the spot. And she does it in a way that is fun! I think that this public speaking project is amazing (And no, I'm not being biased) and can really help kids with public speaking and their fears of public speaking!

Talent Show

The Talent Show will be on Tuesday, May 21 from 6-8 pm in the Estudillo Room at the San Leandro Library. At the Talent Show, you perform an act that's up to 5 minutes long. You can be in up to 2 acts, either by yourself, in a group, or both. A few examples of acts would be playing music, doing a dance, or performing a skit. Some people have done things like string figures, speed drawing, and ventriloquism. If you want to participate in the Talent Show, you can email your act to Zoe at zoeelora@gmail.com and email Micah and Ezra what kind of snack you'd like to bring at amberlily1984@gmail.com. The deadline is May 7. We hope to see you there!
